Selection criterion

The Indian Army has invited applications from candidates for recruitment of law graduates under Judge Advocate General Department Entry Scheme. The criteria for selection are as follows:

A candidate should,

- (i) have scored a minimum of 55% marks in LLB.
- (ii) be eligible for registration with the Bar Council of India.
- (iii) be not less than 21 years and not more than 27 years of age as on January 1, 2014.
- (iv) have qualified in the written test and interview.

If the candidate fulfills all the above criteria, then the candidate can be selected. If the candidate fulfills all other criteria except:

- [a] (i) but scored more than 60% marks in the written test and interview, then the candidate is referred to the Selection Manager.
- [b] (iii) but has at least one year of experience as an advocate, then the candidate is referred to the Department Head.

Based on the above criteria and the information given in each case, you have to take a decision. You are not supposed to assume anything about any unknown information.

If you think that sufficient data is not provided to take a decision, mark your answer as data inadequate.

Mark your answer as,

- (1) if the candidate is to be selected.
- (2) if the candidate is to be referred to the Department Head.
- (3) if the candidate is to be referred to the Selection Manager.
- (4) if the candidate is to be rejected.
- (5) if the given data is inadequate to take a decision.
